

Organization Science

Publication details, including instructions for authors and subscription information:
<http://pubsonline.informs.org>

About Authors

To cite this article:

(1995) About Authors. Organization Science 6(1):144-145. <https://doi.org/10.1287/orsc.6.1.144>

Full terms and conditions of use: <https://pubsonline.informs.org/Publications/Librarians-Portal/PubsOnLine-Terms-and-Conditions>

This article may be used only for the purposes of research, teaching, and/or private study. Commercial use or systematic downloading (by robots or other automatic processes) is prohibited without explicit Publisher approval, unless otherwise noted. For more information, contact permissions@informs.org.

The Publisher does not warrant or guarantee the article's accuracy, completeness, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or non-infringement. Descriptions of, or references to, products or publications, or inclusion of an advertisement in this article, neither constitutes nor implies a guarantee, endorsement, or support of claims made of that product, publication, or service.

© 1995 INFORMS

Please scroll down for article—it is on subsequent pages

With 12,500 members from nearly 90 countries, INFORMS is the largest international association of operations research (O.R.) and analytics professionals and students. INFORMS provides unique networking and learning opportunities for individual professionals, and organizations of all types and sizes, to better understand and use O.R. and analytics tools and methods to transform strategic visions and achieve better outcomes. For more information on INFORMS, its publications, membership, or meetings visit <http://www.informs.org>

About Authors

Michel Berry ("Research and the Practice of Management: A French View") was director of the Management Research Center, Ecole Polytechnique (1974–1991); he has been director of Gérer et Comprendre since 1986 and was founder of the Ecole de Paris of Management (since 1994). Address: Ecole de Paris du Management, 94 boulevard du Montparnasse, 75 014 Paris; telephone: (33-1) 43 35 59 10; fax: (33-1) 43 21 56 84, e-mail: berry@poly.polytechnique.fr.

Hamid Bouchikhi ("The Dynamics of Organization Development and Change: How the Past Shapes the Present and Constrains the Future") is Associate Professor in the Department of Strategy and Management at the Ecole Supérieure en Sciences Economiques et Commerciales (ESSEC) in Cergy-Pontoise, just north of Paris. His current research focuses on the structure and dynamics of managerial elites in France and the U.S. and on internationalization processes of French firms. His most recent book Entrepreneurs et Gestionnaires, written with John Kimberly, compares the managerial approaches of three highly successful French entrepreneurs. Address: Department of Strategy and Management, Groupe ESSEC, Avenue Bernard Hirsch B.P. 105, 95021 Cergy-Pontoise CEDEX, France; telephone: 34.43.30.66; fax: 34.43.30.01; e-mail: p-bouchikhi@ped.essec.fr.

John Child ("Guest Editorial") is the Guinness Professor of Management Studies in the University of Cambridge. He is also Editor-in-Chief of Organization Studies. He gained his Ph.D. in 1967 and received an Sc.D. in 1984 for his outstanding contribution to scholarship—both from the University of Cambridge. His current research interests focus on management and foreign investment in China. His most recent book, Management in China during the Age of Reform, was published by Cambridge University Press in 1994. Address: Judge Institute of Management Studies, University of Cambridge, Fitzwilliam House, 32 Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1QY, United Kingdom; telephone: (+44) 223 337054; fax: (+44) 223 324009; e-mail: JC160@phx.cam.ac.uk.

Bernard Forgues ("Chaos Theory and Organization") is Assistant Professor at the Organization and Marketing Department of the University of Paris-Dauphine. His Ph.D. ("Decision Processes in Crisis Situation," 1993) is from that same university. His research focuses on crisis management and on research methods. Address: DMSP Research Center, Paris-Dauphine University, 75775 Paris Cedex 16, France; telephone: (+33-1) 44 05 44 70; fax: (+33-1) 44 05 44 49; internet: forgues@paris9.dauphine.fr.

Dieter Grunow ("The Research Design in Organization Studies: Problems and Prospects") is Professor of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of Duisburg. He has undertaken research on German public institutions, his main focus being on the relationship between citizens and public institutions. During recent years he has been a consultant to local governments, the Ministry of the Interior (Bonn), the OECD, and voluntary organizations. His publications include Bürgermahe Verwaltung (Frankfurt, 1988) and a contribution to The Public Sector (Berlin, 1991).

Charles W. L. Hill ("National Institutional Structures, Transaction Cost Economizing and Competitive Advantage: The Case of Japan") holds a Ph.D. in Industrial Organization Economics from the University of Manchester in England. The author of over 30 scholarly publications, his research interests center on applying economic theory to problems of business and corporate strategy. Professor Hill currently serves on the editorial boards of several academic journals, including the Academy of Management Journal, Organization Science, and the Strategic Management Journal.

W. Chan Kim ("A Procedural Justice Model of Strategic Decision Making: Strategy Content Implications in the Multinational") is The Boston Consulting Group Bruce D. Henderson Professor of Strategy and International Management, INSEAD, Boulevard de Constance, 77305 Fontainebleau Cedex, France; telephone: 33-1-60-72-42-74; fax: 33-1-60-72-42-42.

John R. Kimberly ("The Dynamics of Organizational Development and Change: How the Past Shapes the Present and Constrains the Future") is Henry Bower Professor in the Departments of Management and of Health Care Systems in the Wharton School and in the Department of Sociology in the School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania. His current research focuses on the structure and dynamics of managerial elites in the U.S. and France and on internationalization processes of French firms. He is also examining variability in how communities organize to provide services to persons with AIDS in the U.S. His most recent book, Entrepreneurs et Gestionnaires (Paris: Editions d'Organisation, 1994), written with Hamid Bouchikhi, compares the managerial approaches of three highly successful French entrepreneurs. Address: Department of Management, The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA 19104; telephone: 215-898-7937; fax: 215-898-0401; e-mail: kimberly@wharton.upenn.edu.

Bruce Kogut ("Knowledge and the Speed of the Transfer and Imitation of Organizational Capabilities: An Empirical Test") is Professor of Management at the Wharton School and is interested in understanding the relationship between organizational form, knowledge of the firm, and geography.

Mitchell P. Koza ("Organizational Theory at the Crossroads: Some Reflections on European and United States Approaches to Organizational Research") is Associate Professor of Business Policy at the European Institute of Business Administration (INSEAD). He is an American citizen who has lived in Europe since 1989. Mitchell has published many papers in the fields of regulation, strategic alliances, and policy analysis. This focused issue builds on a long standing interest of Mitchell's in 19th and 20th century European social thought.

Hervé Laroche ("From Decision to Action in Organizations: Decision-making as a Social Representation") is Associate Professor and Associate Dean for Research at Paris Graduate School of Management (Ecole Supérieure de Commerce de Paris, France). He teaches strategic management and organizational behavior, and carries on research on organizational and strategic decision-making processes. Address: E.S.C.P., 79 avenue de la République, 75543 Paris Cedex 11, France; telephone: 1 49 23 20 32; fax: 1 49 23 20 36.

Renée A. Mauborgne ("A Procedural Justice Model of Strategic Decision Making: Strategy Content Implications in the Multinational") is a Senior Research Fellow of Strategy and International Management, INSEAD, Boulevard de Constance, 77305 Fontainebleau Cedex, France; telephone: 33-1-60-72-42-74; fax: 33-1-60-72-42-42.

Heinz-Dieter Meyer ("Organizational Environments and Organizational Discourse: Bureaucracy between Two Worlds") is Assistant Professor at the Center for Europe and North-America Research, University of Goettingen, Germany. His research interests are culture and comparative organization. He received his Ph.D. in 1992 from Cornell University. Address: Center for Europe and North-America Research (CENS), Humboldtallee 3, 37037 Göttingen, Germany; telephone: 49--551-399775; fax: 49--551-399788; e-mail: hmeyer5@gwdg.de.

Raymond-Alain Thietart ("Chaos Theory and Organization") is Professor of Management at University Paris-Dauphine and Affiliate Professor at Ecole Supérieure des Sciences Economiques et Commerciales (ESSEC). He has taught and researched at the European Institute of Advanced Studies in Management, MIT, University of Caen, University of Paris X-Nanterre and Stanford University. He received his Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1974. His research focuses on the study of complex management systems, processes and organizations. His work has been published in Management Science and the Strategic Management Journal. Address: University Paris-Dauphine, 75775 Paris Cedex 16, France; telephone: (33 1) 44 05 44 70; fax: (33 1) 44 05 44 49; internet: thietart@paris9.dauphine.fr.

Jean-Claude Thoenig ("Organizational Theory at the Crossroads: Some Reflections on European and United States Approaches to Organizational Research") is Senior Research Fellow at the Groupe d'Analyse des Politiques Publiques

(National Center for Scientific Research, Paris) and Professor of Sociology at the European Institute of Business Administration (INSEAD). He has French and Swiss citizenships. Jean-Claude was one of the founders of EGOS (European Group for Organizational Studies) and Organization Studies. He has published many books and papers in the fields of sociology of public organizations, markets and policy analysis.

John Van Maanen ("Crossroads. Style as Theory") is the Erwin Schell Professor of Organization Studies in the Sloan School of Management at M.I.T. He is the author of Tales of the Field (University of Chicago Press, 1988) and recently edited Representation in Ethnography (Sage Publications, 1995). He has conducted fieldwork in police agencies in the U.S. and Britain and is currently writing on Disneyland at home and abroad.

Udo Zander ("Knowledge and the Speed of the Transfer and Imitation of Organizational Capabilities: An Empirical Test") is Assistant Professor at the Institute of International Business (IIB), Stockholm School of Economics. He received his Ph.D. from the Stockholm School of Economics in 1991. His research focuses on international strategy and management. Address: IIB, Box 6501, S-113 83 Stockholm, Sweden; telephone: + 46 8 7369513; fax: + 46 8 319927; e-mail: iibuz@hhs.se.